I am a subscriber to and a supporter of XM Radio. Local radio stations do not provide complete and comprehensive traffic and weather information, and the information they provide is normally only given during AM and PM rush hours. As someone who spends a lot of time in the car throughout the day, having access to current, real-time traffic and weather information is vital. I strongly urge you to reject any challenges by the NAB and other groups that wish to limit the information we have access to on XM Radio. America's economy is based on capitalist, competitive principals, and anyone that wishes to limit that competition simply does not have a competitive product, and instead wants the government to help instead of letting the market decide.

Do not restrict the right of XM Radio, or any other satellite radio provider, to broadcast convenient real-time traffic and weather information.
